Congress May Be on Call In Mid-East Crisis

Lawmakers May Return After They Adjourn In August

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislative leaders may decide to keep Congress on call for any new Middle East emergency that might arise after it completes its regular business next month.

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) forecast adoption of a resolution under which the party leaders of both houses could call members back into an emergency session if President Eisenhower himself did not do so.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Senate Democratic leader, said he hasn't had time yet to consider such a proposal.

Neither he nor Bridges would speculate on whether the Lebanon crisis would prolong the present session. But Bridges said it is his understanding Eisenhower does not now plan to ask for additional funds or other legislation.

Following the course adopted by former President Truman in the Korean War, Eisenhower asked for no formal ratification by Congress of his sending the Marines to Lebanon. He reported it formally to Congress in a special message after he had acted.

The informal reaction was split, largely along party lines. Most Republicans took the attitude that there was no alternative to the use of armed force, a view seconded by only a scattered number of Democrats.

Many Democrats, and some Republicans, were critical of the President's decision. But all, regardless of party, made it clear they would support his action, now that it had been taken.

Johnson told the Senate the action was taken "because it was the feeling of the President that Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) said he doesn't believe "the use of troops is any long-term solution to the problems of poverty and Arab nationalism." He said these are responsible for conditions in the Middle East.

Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) said that if it is a civil war in Lebanon "we have no right whatever to intervene." He predicted Lebanon will be "another Korea."

Chamber Asks Council Buy Street Sweeper

The Salem Area Chamber of Commerce last night joined with the Salem Manufacturing Association in requesting that the city purchasing adequate street cleaning equipment.

In a letter from Castle M. Smith, executive secretary, the group asked that a sweeper be purchased in order to facilitate cleanliness throughout the city.

Councilman R. M. Linder, presiding for President Curtis Vaughan, who was excused from the meeting, said city finances prevented the outright purchase of a sweeper now. However, he said, council is considering the rental of a sweeper.

Service Director Harry Vincent gave council some figures on current costs of cleaning streets by hand. He said that for the first six months of 1958, it cost the city $699 monthly to have the streets cleaned.

Rental of a sweeper on a rental-purchase plan would cost about $325 monthly until the sweeper is paid for. He said one man could operate the sweeper full time compared to eight service employees which now help in downtown cleaning.

Costs of a sweeper would run $9,000 to $11,000, Mr. Vincent said, depending on the cubic yard capacity of the sweeper and other features. He recommended the consideration of a mobile sweeper which also could be used as a snowplow in the winter.

However, council desired additional figures on labor and maintenance costs of the sweeper before a final decision is made.

Pershing St. Repair Planned

Council to Discuss Garbage Disposal

In general business brought before City Council in a three-hour meeting Tuesday night, the following was accomplished:

1. Council took preliminary steps to have a section of E. Pershing St. repaired.

2. Set up a meeting to discuss the collection of rubbish and garbage under the city's proposed "land fill" system.

3. Referred three petitions to the city engineer, and listened to reports by councilmen and city officials.

Councilman Arthur Hanna, chairman of the streets, alleys and sidewalks committee, recommended that the Council adopt Service Director Harry Vincent's recommendation for repairing of Pershing St. between S. Lundy and Ohio Aves.

The matter was referred to acting City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff for plans, specifications and estimates for the proposed improvement which calls for the repair of sewer lines and re-topping the street from Lundy to Lincoln, and for the repair of sewer lines, leveling grade, and topping of the street from Lincoln to Ohio Ave.

It was recommended that the city assume a little more than half of the cost of the project with assessment of properties to pay the rest. The committee recommended that the project be completed at a cost of nearly $10,000.

To Discuss Garbage System
A "committee of the whole" meeting was scheduled for 7:30 p.m. July 29 to discuss the preliminary steps for the collection system the city will use in the "land fill" disposal of rubbish and garbage.

The city engineer advised Council that a topographical survey of Americans Find No Opposition In Capital

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Another U.S. Marine battalion landed in Lebanon today. Advance units moved from their beachhead into Beirut, the capital.

This swelled the total of Leathernecks in this troubled republic to 3,600. More are on the way.

Rebel leaders fighting to topple pro-Western President Camille Chamoun have denounced the Marine landing. But there was no opposition as the Marines swung into the capital.

Issues Statement
Rebel leader Saad Salam, holed up in the Moslem quarter of Beirut, issued a statement urging Lebanese "to defend your country and safeguard your freedom."

An air of tension gripped the city. Rebel forces moved forward three blocks from behind their barricades.

American civilians were leaving the country in greater numbers. Of about 3,200 Americans in Lebanon, 220 private citizens and 168 dependents of embassy personnel have left since the revolt began 68 days ago.

Assures Peace
The United States, which sent in the Marines at Chamoun's request, described the intervention here as the creation of a beachhead to assure peace and stability in the Middle East.

The reaction of the Soviet Union and the Arab bloc headed by Egypt's President Nasser was not yet known.

The spotlight appeared likely to shift rapidly from Lebanon to neighboring Jordan, the partner of Iraq in the Arab Federation. A pro-Nasser coup on Monday overthrew Faisal, King of Iraq and chief of the Federation. Reports were still conflicting as to the fate of Faisal.

King Hussein of Jordan announced his succession to Faisal as head of the Federation.

A Jordan spokesman in Amman said the United States and Britain were considering what aid to give Jordan. The Jordan radio indicated Hussein has asked for assistance to put down the rebel regime in Baghdad.

Britain has announced movements of land, air and sea forces toward the Middle East.

The first Marine unit to enter Beirut was headed by U.S. Ambassador Robert McClintock; Adm. James L. Holloway, commander of the U.S. forces; and Gen. Guad Shehab, commander of the Lebanese army. It included a tank and two troop carriers with 30 men aboard. This column stopped at the U.S. Embassy.

Continues To Port
Another unit, including a tank and five amphibious troop carriers with 150 men, continued to the port area to secure it for the landing of supplies at docks. More men were on the way.

The second contingent of 1,800 Marines landed early today from ships of the U.S. 6th Fleet, joining the 1,800-man contingent that arrived Tuesday. Another battalion will arrive shortly, bringing the total to 5,400 men.

Offshore 11 ships of the 6th Fleet rode at anchor. LSTs were pulled up to the beach.

The Marines as they came ashore assembled at the airport, five miles south of Beirut.

Hussein Solicits U.S., British Aid

Jordan's King Wants 'Peace and Stability'

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The United States and Britain are considering what aid they can give Jordan's King Hussein to help him "restore peace and stability" in Iraq, a government spokesman said today.

The Jordan radio indicated Tuesday night Hussein had appealed to Washington and London for military help.

A government statement broadcast today said Iraq would soon receive help from Jordan, "and other Arab countries who seek peace and stability which will help settle the Iraqi crisis." The other countries were not identified.

Hussein proclaimed himself head of the Arab Union of Iraq and Jordan after his cousin King Faisal II of Iraq was overthrown Monday by a military coup in Baghdad.

The statement noted that reports were still conflicting on the fate of Faisal. He has been reported wounded, besieged in his palace and in hiding.

The U.S. State Department said two Americans and a former Iraqi foreign minister, Fadhl Jamali, also had been reported killed by Baghdad mobs.

The Americans were tentatively and unofficially identified as Eugene Burns, 53, Sausalito, Calif., a

E. Palestine Firemen Given Resuscitator

EAST PALESTINE — Volunteer firemen announced today that they have received a new resuscitator, which was donated to them by the East Palestine Heart Association in conjunction with the Youngstown Area Heart Association.

The resuscitator gives the department a standby unit. It now has two resuscitators, one for use in each of two emergency cars.

Firemen who sponsored a drive for local contributions to buy the equipment, collected $350, which was short of their goal. However, they appealed to the heart group which bought the $565 unit for them.

The money raised by the firemen in the drive will be used for other first-aid equipment.

$385,267 Adopted Budget Is Viewed As Inadequate

Council Fears Deficit In '59

Today's high cost of living is reflected in the 1959 budget adopted last night by City Council which estimates that the city finances may go into the red for the first time next year.

Council adopted the budget introduced by Fred Koenreich, chairman of the finance committee, which requests a total of $385,267 for operating expenses. It is $7,722 lower than the 1958 budget of $392,989.

The budget shows an estimated deficit of $49,236 in the city's general fund which is estimated as

Mr. Koenreich said "We (council) will find ourselves in a difficult position if we can't get more funds." He said the city will go into the red, if it receives only the income anticipated and is forced to spend the total amount estimated for the general fund.

However, Mr. Koenreich explained that either of two solutions would help prevent the city from deficit financing.

The solutions are: (1) Curtailment of expenses in order to make up the difference, or (2) get council commissioners' approval of a larger share of general tax money for the city.

Mr. Koenreich said that the city's income has remained at a fixed rate while materials, wages and labor costs have increased. City employees have received three wage hikes.

The general fund estimate in the 1959 budget was cut back over $1,400 from the amount requested in 1958 of $304,029. A hearing will be arranged in the near future with county commissioners where council will request that more money be provided for the city.

Balance in the general fund during the last two years has been dwindling at a $20,000 or more clip, and it is estimated that the balance at the end of this fiscal year may be around $10,000.

Outside the decrease in the general fund, other funds remained relatively the same in the '59 budget. The park fund was hiked $3,200 to $37,000 as requested.

Olan Sanor Named to County School Board

L. Olan Sanor of East Rochester RD was appointed Columbiana County school board member to succeed Roger Stafford, also of East Rochester, at its monthly meeting Tuesday night at Lisbon.

Mr. Sanor was appointed after Mr. Stafford was automatically out when West Township was transferred officially to Stark County July 1. Mr. Sanor will fill Stafford's unexpired term which began Jan. 1.

The new appointee was a former board member of West Local school board and was the only member on the board who fought to keep West Local in the county system. He lives in a small portion of West Township which now is part of United Local District.

Mr. Sanor is a poultry and dairy farmer. He is married to the former Betty Yeagley and they have four children, three girls and one boy. He is a veteran of World War II, serving in the Army Air Corp, and is a member of the American Legion Post at North Georgetown.

He was a unanimous choice of the other four board members, Ben Weingart, Atty. Donald Elliott, Mrs. Freeman Strabley and Harry Greenwood.

Sanor was present at last night's meeting and was sworn in by President Weingart.

The board reappointed Fred Lohman of Salineville as attendance officer for two years at his existing salary of $2,280, plus $50 per month traveling expenses.

County Supt. James L. McBride reported that due to the loss of a number of teaching units the county could not hire Fred Moore Jr. of Canfield RD 2, as director of guidance for coming school term.

The board passed a motion last night that all salary raises for county office personnel would not become effective until Jan. 1 of any given year. This affects Mrs. Marilyn Solak, who was hired beginning August.

The next county school board meeting will be held Aug. 12. The date was moved up one week due to the county fair.

Secretary of Defense Says Army Prepared

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense McElroy said today that he thinks the American people can be assured our forces are ready for any assignment.

McElroy made that comment to newsmen who met him on his hurried return from the nuclear weapons proving grounds in the Pacific. He was visiting the test site when the American landings in Lebanon were ordered.

In saying American forces are ready for any assignment, McElroy was answering a question about President Eisenhower's statement Tuesday that additional forces might have to be used in the Middle East.

McElroy said the Strategic Air Command, the Navy, and the Strategic Army Corps are alerted.

McElroy was reluctant to discuss the Middle East situation in any detail, saying he had been traveling much of the time since the crisis arose.

McElroy returned in the same plane in which he left, a jet KC135 tanker. The plane flew nonstop from Hawaii to Washington, in 8 hours and 30 minutes for the 5,000-mile trip.

State Leader Tours Republican Picnics

Governor O'Neill Becoming Top-Notch Handshaker In Reelection Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill would rather shake hands than eat.

He is demonstrating that at a series of reelection campaign picnics throughout the state.

Today he greets voters and their families at Tuscora Park, New Philadelphia, in the fourth of 11 super-duper political rallies.

Thursday he will shake hands and pose for photographs with picnickers at the Athens County Fairgrounds, Athens.

O'Neill estimated that he shook 6,000 hands at recent picnics in Chillicothe and Columbus. Well fed guests formed long lines to greet the 42-year-old governor.

After standing for several hours during the marathon grip sessions, O'Neill said his feet tried first.

Contrary to some reports, his right hand was not bruised. "I have learned to shake hands so that no one hurts my hand," explained O'Neill. "I enjoy it."

The governor, recovered from a Jan. 22 heart attack, said he suffered no ill effects from the hand shaking and plans to continue the two-a-week picnic appearances that end Aug. 8 in Riverside Park, Findlay.

He also plans to visit several county fairs, the state fair and continue his busy speaking schedule at other events during the campaign.

Grimacing broadly, the governor said he had been in the political hand shaking business so long he has developed a protective callus between his thumb and forefinger.

Since he first was elected to the Ohio House in 1938, O'Neill has served as state representative, attorney general and governor.

Aides said the production line picture taking at the picnics actually speeds up hand shaking.

Cameramen and their helpers keep the line moving in the hope of making snaps every six seconds. Finished photographs are mailed free to those who pose.

The Columbus and Chillicothe total ran about 4,000. Attendance at the two affairs ranged between 15,000 and 25,000 depending on who did the estimating.

O'Neill has developed his hand shaking-picture taking technique far beyond the usual political rally stage, associates aver. And they say it is going over big with families who seldom see a governor and virtually never get the chance to have their pictures taken with Ohio's chief executive.

Most snapshots include two or more picnic guests, often whole families. Because of the long lines, no one seems to mind if the governor does not shake hands with each guest so long as they are in the picture. There isn't time for more than a smile and a greeting.

Without the picture-taking feature, aides said many hand shakers would want to chat with the governor, slowing up the lines and making it impossible for him to greet so many guests.

O'Neill got the camera attraction going strong during tent meetings in his campaign two years ago. In 1956, barely half as many posed with him for pictures in Chillicothe as this year, a staff member said.

The governor missed out on the hand shaking and picture taking at his first picnic June 27 in Lebanon. A special session of the Legislature allowed him only two hours there. His wife, Betty, did the pinch hitting at that affair.

Ohio Turnpike Toll Is Reduced for Trucks

CLEVELAND (AP) — Effective Monday, the cost of a one-way trip over the 240 miles of the Ohio Turnpike will be cut by $3 to $15.50 for trucks with a gross weight between 65,000 and 78,000 pounds.

Since 20,000 trucks in this class used the toll road in the first half of this year, trucking interests requested the Ohio Turnpike Commission to reduce therates for this class 8 and for class 9, which includes the largest trucks, with gross weights from 78,000 to 90,000 pound, the maximum permitted.

At its meeting Tuesday the commission approved the reduction for class 8 upon recommendation of J. E. Greiner Co., consulting engineers. The firm advised against a cut for class 9 vehicles, only 1,700 of which used the turnpike in the first half of this year.

Former State Highway Director Robert S. Beighler of Columbus, a Turnpike Commission member, said he voted to lower the truck tolls "without any enthusiasm."

He expressed doubt whether the lower rates would attract sufficient new revenue to compensate for added damage heavy trucks would cause to paving.

One class 8 truck, Beighler said, would "cause as much distress" to turnpike pavements as 5,000 automobiles.

The commission expects revenue from class 8 trucks to show an increase of at least $46,000 a year and possibly as high as $170,000.

4 Area Counties Share License Fees, Gas Tax

Four Northeastern Ohio counties shared over nine million dollars in revenue collected by the state from gasoline taxes and motor vehicle license fees during the fiscal year ending June 30, James A. Rhodes, state auditor, reports.

The auditor said a record breaking $108,119,267 was paid to all Ohio counties during the year. The revenue is used for the maintenance and improvement of highways and streets in the counties, municipalities and townships.

Following is the total amount of gasoline tax and license fee money sent to the four area counties last year:

Columbiana, auto licenses, $772,138.99, gasoline tax, $551,970; Mahoning, $1,643,154.86 and $1,004,397.50; Stark, $2,048,554.91 and $1,083,526; and Trumbull, $1,258,263.80 and $762,554.50.

U.S. Mines, Factories Note June Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The output of the nation's mines and factories increased in June for the second straight month, the Federal Reserve Board reported today.

The board's index of industrial production rose to 130 per cent of the 1947-9 average. This compared with a May figure of 128, which was revised upward by one point from the total originally announced a month ago.

The production index hit its recession low of 126 in April.

New Office-Seekers Are Smoothies

'Baby Kissers' Have Vanished From American Political Scene

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Pull out a handkerchief and turn on the sniffles, you old timers. A great American figure has passed from the scene and all that's left of him is a memory.

He's the baby kisser, the cigar holder — outer, the big booming backslapper. In short, he's the old line politician.

He's gone and delegates to the Ohio Educational Assn.'s 11th annual campaign college for school board members and public officials laid him gently in the ground Tuesday. He had to go to make room for the new kind of vote-getter.

And what sort is the new politician?

He's a smoothie. He makes plans. It is said he even thinks.

He was the subject of all talks as delegates analyzed modern campaign tactics to see just how today's electioneer can win friends and influence voters.

Boiled down, here's the strategy they suggested:

1. Tell the voters why you need the money. Unorthodox, but they say it works.

2. On school issues, forget the teacher and emphasize the children's needs. "The public's heart doesn't really bleed for the underpaid teacher," one delegate remarked.

3. Think. A delegate gave this example of thoughtful gambling: "When mailing campaign literature, stick the stamps on by hand. Mail run through a cancellation machine looks like any other advertisement."

4. Be thorough. Always serve refreshments.

5. Be quiet. Don't run a noisy campaign. If you're strong on an issue, get the community's opinion leaders to work for you.

When you've done all that, you are ready for the final bit of advice.

Grab a rabbit's foot and blast off. Who knows? You may win.

Ohio's State Parks Will Be Improved

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Natural Resources today made up a new priority list for improvements at state parks during the next three years.

Col. Herbert Eagon, department director, said the list includes four areas in a previous priority list—East Habor, Pymatuning Lakes, Hueston Woods and Burr Oak Lake.

Added were these seven places—Hocking Parks system, Lake Hope, Punderston State Park, Rocky Fork Park, Portage Lakes, Delaware Reservoir and Kelleys Island.

Exact improvements have not been worked out. The priority list will go to the Capital Planning Commission. It is a recommendation for places to spend the bulk of the $6 to $8 million dollars the department expects to have for a two-year period beginning next July 1.

In addition, much of the $1,621,000 is left over for the two-year period ending next June 30.

Improvements will include roads and parking areas, utility services, boat, picnic and camping areas and service buildings.

280 Lisbon Drivers Have Cars Inspected

LISBON — A number of village motorists went through the Junior Chamber of Commerce's safety check lane last night on North Park Ave. at the square.

The check is not compulsory, according to Chairman Earl Dickey, but he said it is for benefit of all motorists to have their cars inspected.

The Jaycees were assisted by Boy Scouts and gas station owners and attendants.

Further checks will be held today and again next Monday night at the same location.

"Circle of Safety" membership cards were issued to all owners whose vehicles passed the inspection.

Summit County to Be Host to Ohio Plowing Event Aug. 16

Urban Summit County will be the host for the 1958 Ohio plowing matches on Aug. 16.

Plowing will be done on the William Farris farm, 3445 S. Arlington St., about 4 miles south of the Akron city limits.

Although the feature event is the plowing match, many other interesting demonstrations will be presented, according to Herman L. Reuter, work units conservationist of the soil conservation office in Lisbon.

A number of agronomy test plots have been established on the Farris farm. Corn fertilization trials and wheel track planting of corn also can be seen there.

The Ohio Seed Improvement Association has six varieties test plots on corn. In addition, the Brookside Laboratories has some fertilizer test plots for showing.

The Ohio State University tractor tipping demonstration will be held Aug. 16 at 1 p.m. There will be some needed waterways constructed.

A wagon tour will take people to all of these activities as well as the plowing matches.

Plowing matches in Area 3, which includes Columbiana County, will be held Aug. 16 at 9 a.m. at the Farris farm, which will also be host to the state contour and state level land matches the same day at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. respectively.

James Wurtz, Green Township farmer, is chairman of the Field Day committee. The plowing matches are under the direction of William Himelrich, of Barberton.

The plowing judges are Orman Keyser, retired Stark County extension agent; John Slipper, extension soil conservationist, and Sam Bone, extension agronomist. How-

Police May Have Found Dead Woman's Identity

CINCINNATI (AP) — Patricia Brashear, 22, an out-of-work waitress reported missing July 7, may be the woman whose body was found shot through the head in eastern Hamilton County last Friday.

That's the report Tuesday night by sheriff's deputies who traced a label in the victim's dress to Miss Brashear.

Sheriff's investigator Carl Meyer said he will try to complete identification with a dental check.

Deputies still sought Kenneth L. Thompson, 26, who had mentioned in a cafe near where the body was found that he had seen a woman thrown into weeds by a motorist.

But neither Thompson nor his wife, Jacqueline, have been seen since July 6.

Tonnage in commission is 2,105,550, compared with 2,979,860 a year ago when the full fleet was operating.

The Marines Have Landed

If there were the good old days, the announcement that the U.S. Marines had landed in Lebanon would have been enough to assure everybody a good night's sleep. The Middle East would be pacified. But these are not the good old days.

U.S. Marines have landed in Lebanon in an attempt to slow down a hurricane of nationalism in the Middle East that could topple over all the puppet governments which have been propped up by the West.

There are just enough red flags flying in the hurricane to confirm the suspicion that the Soviet Union is huffing and puffing behind the scenes. There is just enough pan-Arabism in it, moreover, to justify the suspicion that Egypt's President Nasser is huffing and puffing, too.

This is what the seers and sages are pointing to with alarm and consternation. It is what they mean when they say Armageddon is about to begin over the Middle East's oil fields. They may be right.

Oil today is as vital a commodity as grain. It is the key to survival. But it is a key that becomes useful only when it fits into a lock — and the Middle East's oil is useless until it is sold. Thus, the greatest peacemaker in the Middle East is not the United Nations, but oil. The most powerful stabilizer is not the Eisenhower Doctrine or the Baghdad Pact, but oil. The basis of all logic and reason in Middle East politics is oil wealth.

The question is: Who will control the oil wealth?

FOR GENERATIONS and continuing up to the present, Europe — chiefly Britain — has set up the political stooges who controlled the Middle East. What is happening now is a reshuffling of stooges.

Egypt's President Nasser has demonstrated in a spectacular manner that it is possible to be a success in Middle Eastern politics without being a puppet of the traditional puppeteers. Whether or not he is himself, a puppet of the Kremlin is problematic. He is undoubtedly friendly with the Kremlin for his own purposes, as could be expected in the light of the fact the Arab nations he is striving to unite lie on Russia's borders. But that would not make him the Kremlin's creature.

There has been a mixup of stooges. And the term "stooge" does not convey the contempt that is felt in other parts of the world for politicians who act as foils for other politicians, because poverty and backwardness have handicapped political development in the Middle East.

The influx of wealth that followed exploitation of the oil fields generated nationalism. This was not only inevitable but desirable. No American can help but notice that the revolution in Iraq that is said to be the spark of a potential World War III has substituted a republic for a monarchy and that the overthrow of Middle East monarchies is the thing most to be feared by the oil industry of the West and the governments that are hopeful of being able to defend its security more adroitly on this occasion than they did in the Suez fiasco two years ago.

AS THE RESULT of that fumble President Nasser was transformed from an upstart into a symbolic defender of the Middle East's right to make its own terms for survival.

And that is why these are not the good old days any longer. Nationalist uprisings, however inspired and contrived by the Kremlin and other sinister influences, cannot be put down with a landing of U.S. Marines. There now is too much steam behind the uprisings.

If the United States and its allies do not recognize that the steam is there and understand why it is there, they will be in danger of losing their influence in the Middle East, as they already have lost it in the Far East.

Gen. MacArthur warned Congress in 1951, at the end of the controversy over his dismissal as commander in Korea, that this country would underestimate the power of nationalism in the Asiatic world at its own risk. It is too easy an explanation to blame all trouble on the Kremlin, or President Nasser.

This Is a Campaign Year

No one can rule out the possibility that Republican money — raisers may have beaten the bushes among highway contractors.

But there are many things to think about before flinging political bricks at the saying of one, two, or a handful of accusers.

It is a little too obvious that the intent of the accusation is to hurt Gov. O'Neill and put him and State Highway Director Charles M. Noble on the defensive.

This is a campaign year. Politics is politics. Fun is fun — and all that.

But there is a limit to all things, including the notion that political money-raisers ever find campaign funds under bushes without shaking the bushes a little.

Both parties' organizations look for money where it is likeliest to be found, and it would be a 20th century miracle if some of it weren't found in this period of multimillion highway building in Ohio among highway contractors.

There is a world of difference, however, between a shakedown for campaign money and a routine bush-beating by persons who have that right under the law and practice it by custom.

Among these could have been some of the division engineers in the State Highway Department. But in this case Mr. Noble says his investigation showed none of the division chiefs did any fund soliciting.

Once Over

Dear Dag Hammarskjold: I see where you ask $1,628,500 for repairs and improvements at the U.N. The roof leaks, the walls are stained and the windows stink.

Leaky roofs in modern buildings are no surprise. How is the plumbing holding up? I got nothing but a five-room bungalow but it leaks all over and from what I am charged for repairs, I think $1,628,500 is cheap and advise you to get it in writing. I am surprised you can get a carpenter, plumber, roofer or mason to come over and make a bid for that little.

I JUST GOT an estimate for fixing water taps, repairing a broken porch step and adjusting a porchlight and it runs almost to that sum. Boy, you should feel lucky if the U.N. cellar don't leak, like so many cellars under buildings put up in the last decade. You got an extra big cellar and if it is as porous as mine it would bankrupt the U.N. to fix it.

Stuck windows should not bother you. They stick everywhere and it is routine to put the wrong size window in the window-frame. You had better not bother with this. Leave them stay stuck. Trying to open them will make U.N. delegates so mad they will shorten their speeches and get so burned up they will not vote abstentions on anything. This would be a swell break.

MAYBE YOU SHOULD let the roof leak, too, especially in the General Assembly room. I would widen the leaks and let rain pour in on the delegates. Wet through they might speed up things.

Why wouldn't it be a good idea to have an extra big leak in the roof immediately over the Soviet, Czech and Polish delegations?

Very truly yours,
Aristotle ("Tex") Schultz

P.S. — Do the doorbells work and have the walls cracked all over yet?

We do not believe Gov. O'Neill authorized them to go after money or that he welcomes money obtained from highway contractors. He said specifically, in fact, that "no money is to be accepted by anyone from contractors, distillers or suppliers of materials to the state."

We think the thinly supported accusation which made it appear that bush-shakers have been running amuck in one of the old familiar places, will serve only to put O'Neill backers on the alert to avoid this sort of thing in 1958.

It doesn't matter who is governor, or which party is raising the money — the State Highway Department always seems to get mixed up in an accusation that something irregular is going on.

The important thing is to hold off the brickbats until the source and substance of the accusation can be sized up.

As we say, this is a campaign year. There are people who think anything that goes on in war, love and politics is fair.

But there is a limit. Hold that brickbat until you see the whites of the target's eyes. As things go in Ohio politics, that might be never. The target might be nothing but an illusion.

A fellow with a checkered career has to keep on the move.

By H. I. Phillips

PRESS AGENTS busting out all over in the House Committee Adams inquiry mark a new twist. People seem to be calling for publicity men before they even get a lawyer. First thing you know a man juggled for a crime will pipe, "I won't say a word to you cops until I am allowed to call my public relations agent."

Ebbets Field, for years the home of Dodgers, has been having a circus. It should have included the tattooed man (with dollar signs), the living skeleton or Brooklyn fan who depended on the ball game for his health and the loyal roofer who slid down a wire into a bucket of broken promises from team operatives.

New York brewers say demands are so frequent there are now almost as many "hops" in wages as in beer.

CUSTOM OF PREDICTING holiday road tragedies, with guessing at a grand total, checking every few hours and filling the airwaves with the score of the minute is pretty silly and probably increases careless driving instead of curbing it. It makes toll of accidents commonplace. The depicted horror lost its impact years ago through repetition. Many an autoist weaves in and out of traffic while listening to the latest score in the grim contest between idiocy and horse-sense. It is not unusual for cops to reach a wrecked auto with the radio still blaring, "The holiday death toll, which was set at 406, will exceed that figure. Etc."

Today's drivers can quickly brush off a death scene, forget a roadside catastrophe after they have left it a few miles back and yawn at the appeal, "If you're on the road over the holiday, drive carefully, won't you, please."

Right-to-Work Movements

By JAMES B. SIBBISON

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders are alarmed over the rash of "right-to-work" movements that have broken out in a number of states. They profess to fear these more than any pending labor legislation in Congress.

Sponsors of these movements have been gathering signatures on petitions in six states in the hope of putting their proposal on the November ballots. A seventh, Kansas, acted through its Legislature. What they want is to outlaw the union shop.

Wherever such a proposal is approved, a new employee would no longer be obliged to join a union — as he is now in a union shop plant. Eighteen states, mostly Southern, already have such laws.

Right-to-work proponents, usually Chambers of Commerce and conservative farm groups, say all they ask is that every worker have the freedom to say whether he wants to belong to a union.

Top union leaders see it otherwise. Given this choice, they say, many employees would refuse to join in order to avoid paying dues while still enjoying the pay raises and work conditions negotiated by the union.

A petition campaign to put a right-to-work referendum up to the voters in the fall failed in Montana. Results in Colorado and Idaho await a check of the validity and numbers of signatures obtained.

But union leaders are fairly certain the proposal will be offered voters in Ohio, Washington, Kansas and California.

Of these four, easily the most important politically are California and Ohio. Both have big industry and heavy union representation. Both will have key races in the fall.

Surprisingly, the issue is being treated in exactly opposite fashion by Republican senators running for office in those states.

In California, Sen. William F. Knowland has made right-to-work a principal plank in his efforts to become the next governor. He is frankly for it, in a manner not unlike the aggressive campaign fought successfully by Sen. Robert A. Taft in Ohio in 1950.

On the other hand, John W. Bricker, running for his third term as Ohio's Republican senator, has been trying to soft-pedal the issue.

Bricker's views on labor are similar to those of Taft and Knowland. Nevertheless, he and Ohio's GOP governor, C. William O'Neill, are trying to prevent the Ohio Chamber of Commerce and others from further circulation of right-to-work petitions, which can be filed until Aug. 5.

One GOP source says privately the Republicans in Ohio fear that a right-to-work proposal would only rouse unions to get out a massive vote on election day — to the disadvantage of GOP candidates.

This strategy would appear to be a reversal of Taft's open fight with labor leaders in 1950. But Bricker told a reporter this is not so. He said right-to-work is a strictly state matter that should not be permitted to confuse issues in a year for statewide candidates.

Both sides in the fight believe, for different reasons, that a number of union members will vote for right-to-work.

Proponents say many workers want it because of dislike for "union bosses." Union leaders fear some members will favor it under the misapprehension that "right to work," in a period of unemployment, guarantees them a job.

"He refused to go to bed for me, Mrs. Perkins—he said he was going steady with another baby sitter!"

History Repeating

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Soviets Are Banking on Lack of Resoluteness

The Soviet strategists have made a bold move in the "cold war." They have instigated a revolution in Iraq. They have increased Nasser's power. They have also intensified their threat to take over the whole Middle East through their stooge, Nasser of Egypt.

This means a crisis in David Lawrence's Western policy which resembles what happened in the 1930's when Hitler and his stooge, Mussolini, used to take step after step in their campaign of gradual absorption of weaker states. As Winston Churchill lamented afterward in his memoirs, there were many occasions when the Allies could have taken a firm stand and stopped the onward march of totalitarianism. Instead, the Western governments vacillated and were finally forced into war after many opportunities to checkmate the enemy had already been passed by.

Will history repeat itself? Will the Security Council of the United Nations, where action can be blocked by a Soviet veto, prove as futile as was the League of Nations in its day?

Will the West then let the dictator in Moscow and Cairo, who are jointly engaged in aggression, pursue their plots and take over all the Middle East, when it may be too late effectively to intervene without a big war?

The main question here now is: What can the Western powers do? The Eisenhower doctrine could, of course, be interpreted as meaning that the circumstances justify a military intervention. The new government in Iraq itself naturally will not request intervention.

SOME OTHER government in the Middle East, like Jordan, could invite the Western allies to send in troops to take protective steps to reel the aggression that is threatened. But it is doubtful whether public opinion either in Britain or America is as yet ready for a war that might ensue. It wasn't ready in the 1930's, either.

The only logical policy at the moment is to begin to build a resistance within the Middle East by strengthening Turkey, Iran, Jordan and Pakistan in a military way and by supplying the sinews of defense to the members of the Baghdad Alliance.

Significantly, the revolution in Iraq was timed to coincide with a meeting of the representatives of the Baghdad Pact which was to have been held this week in Turkey.

Another move might be the cutting off by the Western powers of diplomatic relations with the Communist government in Moscow. This would serve notice on the Kremlin that the West is well aware of the subversive tactics of the Communists and is ready to apply an international "quarantine."

This was the proposal for dealing with "world lawlessness" made by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who suggested it in a public speech in Chicago in 1937. It was recognized then as a means of applying the moral force of the world.

TO HEED the advice about a "quarantine" meant a trade embargo as a sequel.

This would have prevented Hitler's building up his war machine. But, unhappily, materialism then blocked the way, and less than two years later a global war began that cost millions of casualties.

Today the threat of a worldwide embargo against the Communists and against Nasser would be one means of bringing the men in the Kremlin to their senses. For they are playing with fire today.

They are banking on the lack of resoluteness of the West. The Communists have deliberately weakened the Lebanon government by stirring up a rebellion and now they have managed to overthrow a government in Iraq which was friendly to the West.

It will not be of any avail to be legalistic and assume that the whole situation in Iraq is internal and that the uprising is merely a clash between local factions.

THE PRONOUNCEMENTS of the rebel leaders are plainly written in the phrases of Soviet propaganda. The immediate proclamation of adherence to Nasser's so-called "republic," for instance, gives the game away.

The revolution was started from the outside and is plainly a part of the scheme of aggression and conquest which Nasser, encouraged by Moscow, has been carrying on for some time.

The Western powers will have to make up their minds that they are not dealing with the customary form of rebellion within a country but are facing the consequences of an international revolutionary movement which has for its principal object the capture of whole countries are making them part of the Soviet apparatus.

Unless firm action is taken now, there is certain to arise a bigger and more dangerous crisis in the not-far-distant future that could involve large defense outlays and grave risk.

It is a time when firmness is essential, when the United States and Britain must promptly consult with Turkey, Pakistan, Jordan and Iran to establish a military program that will really protect the Middle East against further invasion by the Communists.

Pint-Sized Stockholders

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — A doting uncle has just given his New Jersey nephew some oil stock instead of a check on his graduation from high school.

A California youngster found a chain grocery store's stock in his Christmas stocking.

School students in an Utica, N. Y., mathematics class pooled their dimes to buy a food company's shares. And when they couldn't distribute a 10 cent dividend equally, they shared a bag of jelly beans instead.

It's a rare stockholder's meeting these days that doesn't find the chairman of the board having his picture taken with some mopet attending on his own right as a part owner of the concern.

Stockholding by minors has been growing rapidly in the last few years, helped since 1954 by the spread among the states of a law called the Uniform Gifts to Minors Act which enables youngsters to own stocks through a custodian.

The New York Stock Exchange says the volume of securities transactions under this legislation is approaching 50 million dollars a year. This month the 42nd state in the union put into effect such a law. It also has been voted by Alaska, Hawaii and the District of Columbia.

How many children receive stock gifts is unknown. But in 1956 a survey of stock ownership by the exchange placed the number of stockholding minors at 200,000 — some getting their shares by inheritance, some as gifts and some saving up their own earnings.

Under the new state laws an adult can give securities to a child by simply registering the stock in the name of a custodian, usually a parent or relative. The gift is irrevocable and the minor takes over this property when he becomes 21.

To buy, sell and reinvest and collect dividends, provide he exercises normal standards of prudence and discretion.

In most of the 42 states the Uniform Gifts to Minors acts permit gifts of cash, so that the adult custodian can set up monthly investment plans to buy stock for a minor on a regular basis. Or the youngsters can open their own accounts through a custodian.

Powerful Peppy Pill Packs Pull For Mentally Depressed

By JERRY BENNETT
WASHINGTON — (NEA)—Scientists have shattered the blissful age of the tranquilizer with a revolutionary type of happiness pill. It's the energizer.

This is the name of a special group of drugs that is becoming as effective in pepping people up, as tranquilizers are in calming them down. The one that's receiving the most attention today is a super stimulant called iproniazid.

NEW ENERGIZING drugs have brought some mental patients out of severe depression.

The reason is that it's the first drug that has been successful in helping cure severely depressed mental patients. It works best on people who suffer from a special type of depression that often immobilizes them or makes them want to commit suicide.

Dr. Jonathan Cole, top drug expert for the U. S. Public Health Service's National Institute of Mental Health, declares, "This is the hottest development of the year."

The new drugs are not panaceas for the average person who feels he needs a boost. They can be obtained only on prescription.

NEW JERSEY psychiatrist Dr. Theodore R. Robie reports that 53 out of 87 patients were recently restored to useful happy lives by the drug. Two Michigan doctors credit iproniazid with producing marked improvement in the condition of 16 of their most severely depressed patients. Similar successes have been reported by doctors throughout the country.

Some doctors believe that iproniazid's startling effects indicate it may some day replace the frightening electro-shock treatments used to treat extreme depressions. In fact, doctors report that the drug has aroused patients who never reacted to electric shock.

But iproniazid's startling benefits are not the only reason for the intense interest that it's receiving among medical specialists.

ALMOST AS MUCH excitement has been triggered by the drug's frightening side effects. Doctors report that iproniazid has caused some patients to become uncooperative, belligerent, noisy and impulsive. Others have been thrown into convulsions.

Several patients have become so excited that they suffered fractures. Insomnia, dizziness, constipation and urinary troubles also have been blamed on the drug. Dr. Cole explains that a high level dose often causes a striking drop in blood pressure.

Recently, iproniazid has been accused of causing fatal liver damage. About 184 cases of liver disease have appeared in the more than 480,000 patients receiving the drug. Of these cases, 28 have been fatal.

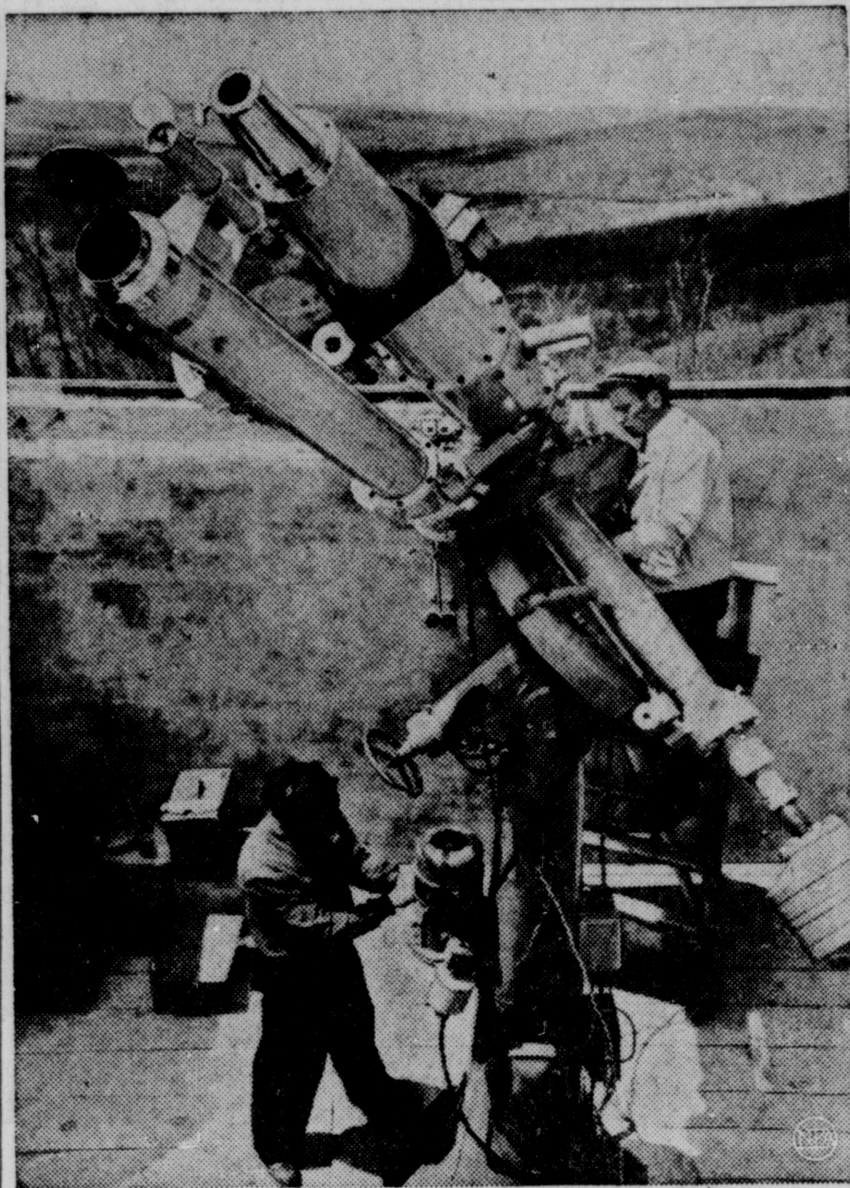

BUT SOME MEDICAL experts believe that there is little or no proof to back up these charges. They explain that the liver disease may have been completely unrelated to the drug treatments.

Normal persons, taking the drug, have reported that it boosted their energy and enabled them to work better. They also claim that it enabled them to get along with less sleep.

Medical experts explain, however, that there is little scientific evidence so far to support these claims.

A number of scientific projects are under way to increase the effectiveness and safety of present energizers and to develop better ones.

Iproniazid was first used in the treatment of tuberculosis. It was soon adopted by psychiatrists, however, when startled hospital personnel noticed the extreme activity it caused in TB patients.

The Midwesterner

By HAL BOYLE

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — What makes the Midwesterner different?

There's no doubt he is.

Coming from the East to the Midwest you are aware of a difference in the people who dwell in the great heartland of America. But it takes you some time to puzzle out what that difference is.

Here are a few things you may observe:

The Midwesterner seems to get as much done as anybody else, but he never seems to be in a great hurry about it. He feels that every day is long enough for the work that has to be done in it.

The Midwesterner loves to talk, but he prefers small talk to big talk. He seems to have an innate understanding of the fact that time has a way of punishing braggarts.

The Midwesterner doesn't believe much in hysteria. The periodic panics and alarms that sweep people in coastal areas rarely touch him. He still retains a kind of wonderful 19th century feeling of security in both himself and his section of the country.

The Midwesterner has a wry sense of humor based on a sound set of normal values. To him nothing is funnier than anyone or anything that lets itself get out of perspective, or, as he puts it, "too big for its britches."

The Midwesterner is self-confident in peace and makes a good soldier in wartime because he learns early to adjust to life, not as he might want it, but life as it is. He knows each winter probably will be long and cold, and each summer long and hot.

The Midwesterner, like the Southerner, is instinctively polite—although perhaps in a more informal way. He prefers to take the other fellow at his own estimate as long as possible.

The Midwesterner is automatically friendly to everyone he meets. He enjoys doing small favors. But he can also be a long hater if he feels his friendship is imposed upon.

The Midwesterner is endlessly curious. He likes to hear about how other people live, but he is slow to change his own ways—and won't be stampeded into doing so.

Weather rules his existence from birth, and is always there ready to ruin or enrich him. To a Midwesterner probably the most important things in life are the weather and his home. He's a great weather watcher and a great homebody. No other American takes a deeper pride in his home—or works harder at keeping it up.

To the average Midwesterner a streak sizzling in the barbecue pit in his backyard holds a finer music than any sonata by Beethoven; tomorrow's weather forecast is more meaningful to him than anything Khrushchev may have said yesterday about the international political climate.

Come up sunshine or a storm, there is one thing the Midwesterner can't quite understand: Why anyone would possibly want to live anywhere else in the wide world except where he does.

LOOKING FRESH, CRISP AND PRETTY in the humidity and heat of summer means that hair, skin and clothes must have the special look of absolute cleanliness. Most of us can give the iron a summer vacation to some degree with so many drip-dry fashions on hand. But we can't neglect soap-and-water, particularly with this summer's slick white nautical styles. Sea coat (left) in white duck, has nautical trim of colored braid. It goes over swimsuit, pants or a narrow dress. Nautical accessories (center), including rope belt with anchor fastening, get light brush-off with soft brush and dry soap-suds. Brunch coat (right) is no problem to launder since it is devoid of frills or fuss, takes no ironing.

Space Age Threshold

By DR. WERNHER VON BRAUN

Victor Riesel is in Europe. Today his guest columnist is Wernher von Braun, one of the world's greatest rocket and missile experts.

The advent of the Space Age has immense significance for labor as well as for industry, science education, religion and politics. It carries forward the Technological Revolution which freed men from most of the physical toil accepted as a way of life by earlier civilizations.

In the ancient world society depended upon undiscovered slavery. It was called serfdom in the Middle Ages. Later it became tenancy for the farmer, apprenticeship for the tradesman.

The determined effort to liberate humanity from the yoke of heavy physical labor dates back only into the early 19th century. By harnessing natural energy and perfecting mechanical means to perform repetitive tasks, technology has befriended labor.

THE REVOLUTIONARY impact of the machine, coupled to new sources of power, also brought problems. It produced enormous wealth but unequal distribution of profits also resulted. While the proletarian might claim that he was no longer a slave to be bought and sold, he was available for rent.

CABINET POST? — Sources on the Nationalist Chinese stronghold of Formosa report a "strong possibility" that Lt. Gen. Chiang Ching-Kuo, 53, elder son of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, will join the new cabinet being formed by Premier-elect Chen Cheng as minister without portfolio. Chiang is presently Deputy Secretary General of the National Defense Council, the highest military advisory organization to his father.

signs of the technological liberation from manual toil can be seen everywhere. Heavy machinery builds highways, electronically controlled automation operates industrial assembly lines, automatic controls regulate power plants. All these innovations have meant displacement of countless numbers of workers.

Because the nature of technology is dynamic, sources of conflict are logical aftermaths in the clash between static political systems and rapidly changing technological conditions. Every major invention, every scientific breakthrough affects human existence.

ROCKET TECHNOLOGY is in its infancy but its influence will be felt in many areas as it progresses. For example, much of the present postal transportation system could be replaced by a complex of six earth satellites.

If we equipped these orbiters with electronic data processing devices, they could handle the entire mail volume of the earth. As a satellite passed over Chicago, it would take on messages for Washington and deliver them five minutes later, by radio, to ground receiving stations in that city.

It has been suggested that the long-range guided missile may become the most efficient transportation system for the delivery of high priority cargo between points on the earth's surface, regardless of the distance between these points.

Other satellites can be employed in communications systems, making it possible to televise images across vast distances. Still others could provide the most accurate weather forecasting service one can imagine.

Technology displaces — it also creates. Thus hundreds of thousands of men and women are engaged in the development, production and launching of ballistic missiles — and these programs are but early indicators of what lies ahead.

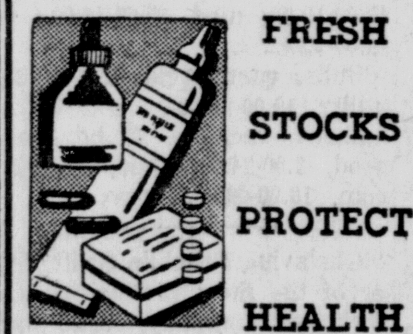

OUR EXPERIENCE in this relatively new field has pointed up some areas of interest to labor. There is urgent need for craftsmanship of a new order of perfection, for the failure of the smallest component can destroy a giant rocket made up of hundreds of thousands of components.

There is great need for more refinements to reduce the size and weight of components, for metals or other substances capable of withstanding temperatures higher than have ever been experienced.

Much remains to be accomplished in the development of more efficient propulsion and guidance systems before we arrive at the point at which we can talk of assembling deep space ships from orbital bases far above earth's atmosphere.

It is my firm conviction that man stands on the threshold of an era unprecedented in history — one that can bring him to new heights or plunge him into the abyss if we do not employ these new tools for his benefit.

U.A.R. Dictator Returns From Visit to Yugoslavia

Mid-East Eruption Is Another Victory for Egypt's Nasser

The new flames sweeping the Middle East light up another success for Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The Egyptian dictator was sailing home from Yugoslavia today on the yacht of the king he overthrew in 1952 to start a meteoric political career. The President of the United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria returns to Cairo amid swiftly moving events that may bring his strongest challenge so far.

The developments began early Monday, while Nasser was visiting Communist President Tito of Yugoslavia. The monarchy in pro-Western Iraq was overthrown by pro-Nasser army officers—just as Nasser replaced King Farouk with a military-run republic.

The Iraqi revolt started the U. S. 6th Fleet moving eastward through the part of the Mediterranean which Nasser is now playing. The fleet was on its way to land Marines in Lebanon. And the United States, in statement to the U. N. Security Council, made clear that it considers Nasser the villain in the piece.

Crisis is no stranger to the tall, darkly handsome 40-year-old Arab leader.

A plotter from the time he was a boy, Nasser gambled and won two years ago this month when he nationalized the Suez Canal.

France and Britain struck back with an invasion of the canal zone after Israel invaded the Egyptian Sinai Peninsula. But Nasser had correctly calculated the delicate Soviet and American balance.

Britain and France were forced to halt their invasion and the Israelis finally agreed to withdraw, turning Nasser's military defeat into a resounding political triumph which sent his stock soaring among Arab nationalists.

Nasser moved stubbornly ahead with the operation of the canal on his own terms and rebuilt his military forces with Communist help.

Last Feb. 1 the union of Egypt and Syria was proclaimed with Nasser as its president. The kingdom of Yemen federated a month later and Nasser was hailed by masses in the Middle East as the great Arab unifier.

When the Lebanese revolt erupted this spring, the Beirut government accused Nasser's U. A. R. of sparking the rebellion by its virulent propaganda and aiding the rebels with arms and men from Syria. The U. A. R. denied the charge, but the United States, Britain and France maintained there was outside interference. Observers sent to Lebanon were kept from the border by the rebels.

When the coup in Iraq unfolded Monday, reports from Cairo said it took the capital by surprise but jubilant celebrations followed in the streets of Cairo and Damascus.

Nasser was a 34-year-old lieutenant colonel in the Egyptian army when he masterminded the 1952 coup that toppled King Farouk. He had been plotting that upheaval 10 years, but when it came he still needed a front man. The choice was Maj. Gen. Mohamed Naguib, a hero of the 1948 Palestine War, who became president and premier of the new regime.

Within two more years Naguib was out and Nasser was the power in front as well as behind the scenes.

more troops were reported prepared to go into Lebanon if necessary. Eisenhower informed Congress in a special message that the initial contingent of 5,000 Marines "will be augmented as required."

The Atlantic and Pacific fleets were readied for action under four-hour alert orders. The Strategic Air Command put its nuclear armed bomber forces in a heightened state of readiness.

While the President did not discuss most of these precautionary measures in his public pronouncements on the middle East crisis, he did make clear that he hoped the action taken so far will be sufficient to support the government of Lebanon and that nation's independence.

"We hope that this result will quickly be attained and that our forces can be promptly withdrawn," he said. "We must, however, be prepared to meet the situation, whatever be the consequences."

The United States acted at the urgent request of President Camille Chamoun of Lebanon. At the same time, this country asked the United Nations to set up an international military force to protect Lebanon's independence. If this is done, U. S. troops would be withdrawn.

The U. N. Security Council meets today to consider the request.

Eisenhower compared his decision to send U. S. troops with that of President Truman in 1947 to assist anti-Communist forces in Greece. He likened the "pattern of conquest" directed against Lebanon to that by which the Communists took over Czechoslovakia in 1948 and the mainland of China in 1949, and tried in later years to take over Korea and Indochina.

Supplies and vehicles continued to flood across the beach, watched by hundreds of holiday-minded Lebanese who came out from the city to see the show.

Officially Loyal

The Lebanese army and police, while officially loyal to Chamoun, have made no determined effort to dislodge the rebels from the Moslem quarter during the 68 days of the rebellion. Activity in Beirut has consisted mainly of frequent exchanges of firing and terrorist bombings to enforce a rebel-called general strike which has been only partly effective.

Reliable observers said the landing of the Marines should be considered a precautionary operation.

"It is still basically a Lebanese show," one said. "The Marines are sitting on the sidelines in case they are needed."

Uncertainty about the purpose of their presence in Lebanon was reflected by the Marines lounging on the sunny beaches.

On Same Side

"If we do any fighting here, we will be on the same side as the Lebanese army, won't we?" asked Pfc. Angelo T. Goselli of Mount Vernon, N.Y. He was eager to know who he would be fighting against but got only vague answers.

Brig Gen. Sidney Wade, commander of the 2nd Marine Division, flew into Beirut and was taken on a tour of the beach by Lt. Col. Harry Hadd, the first officer to land Tuesday.

Two home runs in the seventh inning gave Lincoln Machine a 5-4 come-from-behind victory over Electric Furnace.

Bill Odorizzi blasted a homer over the leftfield fence and Frank Lanney belted a two-run, round-tripper with a mate aboard over the centerfield to score three runs for Lincoln. The three runs put Lincoln ahead 5-3 going in the last of the seventh when the Furnacemen notched their final lone run.

Lincoln took a 2-0 margin in the first inning, but the Furnacemen's single runs in the second, third and sixth frames vaulted them into a 3-2 lead at the end of six cantos.

One of Electric Furnace's 10 hits was a homer in the second inning by Jerry Cosgrove.

Losing pitcher, Bill Schuster, who gave up just six hits, and Bruce Galbreath, his teammate, were the hitting stars of the ball game. Both chalked up three safeties, with Schuster getting a double and a triple, and Galbreath hammering out a double. The Furnace's Cosgrove also got two hits.

Lincoln's Paul Ritchey and Odorizzi each collected two hits. Don Fife was the winning hurler. Both teams made two misplays each. Salem Drive-In grabbed an 8-0 margin before Fireside could tally a run, getting a marker in the first frame, four in the second and three in the third. The Drive-In's final two runs came in the sixth stanza.

Fireside got three in the fourth and two in the fifth to account for their five runs. The Drive-In outlived Fireside 11-8.

Losing pitcher was Ron Wyss. The winner was Bruce Feicht. Wyss and Bob Faulkner of Fireside and Dave Hiner, "Doc" Hiner and Yeagley of Salem Drive-In all collected two hits in the game. Dave Hiner and Yeagley each stroked a double.

Fireside had five errors compared to two for the Drive-In.

Pushing across three runs in the opening frame, B&W pulled out in front to stay in its 12-1 win over Deming's. B&W tallied another run in the third, two in the fifth, one in the sixth and five in the seventh inning for the rest of their scoring. Deming's lone tally came in the second canto.

B&W's Negro and Shaffer of B&W with three hits each, were the hitting stars. Negro cracked three doubles and Shaffer socked a pair of two-baggers. Their teammates, Vick and Cunningham, also collected a pair of hits each.

Vick walloped a double and a triple and Cunningham poled a double. Paul Thys, the winning pitcher, limited Deming's to two hits while his teammates collected 13 safeties. John Eagon was the loser. Deming's had four miscues and B&W was charged with only one.

BASEBALL MEETING SET
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Minor League President George M. Trautman has announced that baseball's 1959 mid-winter convention will be held in St. Petersburg, Fla., the first week of December. Highlight of the meeting, Trautman said, is the annual player draft. The 1958 convention will be held during December in Washington, D. C.

Annual All-Star Tilts Will Be Held July 23

The Salem Softball Association will conduct its annual all-star games July 23 at Kelly Field.

At 7:30 p.m., the Class A All-Stars will meet Old Dutch Beer (Bloomberg's in 1957) last year's champs, while at 9 p.m. Old Dutch of Alliance will tangle with the Class AA All-Stars.

On paper, the Class A stars have the edge over their rivals.

Last year's title holders in Class A are paced at the plate by centerfielder Ron Stanley who is clubbing the ball at a .621 clip. Behind him is second-sacker Marty Limpose who comes in at .371.

No other starter is hitting .300. Old Dutch Beer will field Dwaine Stanley, .259, at first, Limpose at second, Ron Schaeffer, .069, at third, and Jim Harrigan, .143, at short.

In the outfield with Ron Stanley are Bob Capel, .257 and Tom Ehrhart, .226.

Ehrhart is his team's power man with four homers this year. Behind the plate for the 1957 banner winners will be Gerry "Yogi" Menichelli. He is third in batting in the league with a .500 average. On the mound will be Matt Klein (5-1) or Bill Panzott (3-2).

Klein has an earned-run average of .179. Od Dutch will face a rash of fine hitters and pitchers when they tangle with the all-stars.

In right field for the Stars will be Frank Ruff of B&W Research, undoubtedly the league's leading candidate for MVP honors. Ruff is batting a sizzling .512 and has the unbelievable total of 26 RBIs in 12 games.

He has hit safely in his last six times at bat and on two occasions has driven in six runs in one game.

Jack Woods is the second string right fielder. He is hitting .272 and has four homers.

Jim Weizenecker of the Friends Church is the starting backstop for the stars. He is hitting .409 while his replacement, Doc Hiner of Salem Drive-In is stroking the pellet at .412.

Don Brudery of Drive-In will hold down the first-place spot. He has six hits in his last nine times at the plate and is batting .448. Glenn Scattergood of Salona Supply at .432 is his replacement and has give homers and 19 runs batted in.

At the keystone sack will be Bruce Galbreath of Electric Furnace. One of the smoothest fielders in the circuit, his average is .382.

Bob Morris of Salona, his sub, is also hitting .382.

The league's power man, Bill Odorizzi of Lincoln Machine, gets the call at the hot corner. "Bad Bill" is hitting .438. Five of his hits have cleared the final barrier.

Odorizzi has a six-game hitting streak going and is hitting .500 in his last 14 times at the dish. Sonny Jack of Salona will fill in for Odorizzi. His average is .400.

With eight raps in his last dozen times, Howie Powell of the Christian Church will inaugurate activities at short for the Stars. His average is .414.

Coming in at .308 is Dan Murphy, a teammate of Powell's who gets the second call at short.

In the outfield with Ruff will be Don Knight of the Columbiana Merchants and Jerry Hendricks of Drive-In. Their subs are Gary Painchaud of Lincoln and Casey Lease of Salona respectively.

Knight is averaging .360 and Painchaud, .359.

Hendrick's batting average is .360 while Lease's is .353. The strongest bit of opposition Old Dutch will face will be the pitching of the all-stars whose three hurlers have a combined record of 22-1.

Leading the trio is Bruce Feicht of Drive-In. He has an 11-1 slate. His feats boast a one-hitter, five two-hitters and two three-hitters. His ERA is a fine 1.47. He leads the league in strikeouts.

The stars' other chuckers are

Paul Wickline of Salona and Gene Logue of the Merchants.

Wickline is 6-0. His ERA is 1.23 and he has a three-hitter to his credit.

Logue comes in at 5-0 and has hurled a pair of three-hitters. His earned-run average is a fantastic 0.74 and he has allowed but one such tally in the last 21 innings.

Harry Walker of Drive-In will manage the stars and will be assisted by Harry Marshall of the Friends Church and Sonny Guthrie of the Merchants.

Tickets for the contests may be purchased from any player in either league.

A resume of the Class AA classic will follow later this week.

Baseball TV-Radio Curb Is Supported

Frick Favors Rule On Broadcasts To Save Sport

WASHINGTON (AP) — Commissioner Ford Frick told senators today that baseball desperately needs the power to curb TV-radio broadcasts of its games. Otherwise, he said, the sport faces destruction.

Frick pictured major league telecasts into minor league territory as a "major contributing cause" of the minors' rapid decline in popularity.

He said the majors and minors depend on each other to stay in existence.

But he cautioned that without a binding TV-radio rule some clubs may "deviate from the desired line" and continue to beam their games into minor league cities regardless of the consequences.

Frick testified before the Senate antimonopoly subcommittee which is weighing House-passed legislation to grant pro baseball, football, basketball and hockey broad exemptions from antitrust laws.

George Trautman, head of the minor leagues, also was called as a witness today.

Frick went over baseball's problems from beginning to end, testifying on other topics that:

1. Expansion of the major leagues is inevitable. He once thought a third league was the most likely method, but is now convinced that it "will first come as an expansion of the existing leagues."

2. Legislated exemptions are necessary to protect baseball against a reversal of Supreme Court rulings that the national antitrust law is now immune to the antitrust laws.

MacKay Paces Net Tournament Stars

CHICAGO (AP) — Top-seeded Barry MacKay, the power-serving Davis Cupper, led a host of rated performers today into the fourth round of the 48th annual National Clay Court Tennis Tournament.

The 22-year-old Dayton, Ohio, stroker, one of America's best Davis Cup bets, encountered some trouble in blasting out two victors Tuesday in suburban River Forest.

Arriving from Davis Cup zone play in Canada, MacKay had some difficulty from 15-year-old Bobby Siska of San Francisco before winning the second round match, 6-3, 6-4.

Then he turned back Gay Messick of Western Springs, Ill., by a similar score.

Tommy Bolt Called On Carpet by PGA

HAVERTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Are they going to lower the boom on trigger-tempered Tommy Bolt?

This question took priority over the usual pretournament gripes about the course and weather today as the country's top professionals turned up for the National PGA Golf Championship, opening Thursday.

Bolt, on probation since last January and hit with a $500 fine for bad conduct, has been called on the carpet of the Professional Golfers Assn. Executive Committee tonight to plead his case.

If he can't convince the 15-member committee that he deserves another chance, he likely is to be barred from PGA-sponsored competition for from a few months to a year or more.

Most observers, however, expected the on-again off-again club thrower to get no more than a severe dressing down and a warning.

Mike Holt Says He Can Handle Durelle

MONTREAL (AP) — Mike Holt, sleek-looking South African fighter, makes no bones about his plans to handle Yvon Durelle in their British Empire light-heavyweight title bout tonight.

"I'll wear him down," said Holt with finality.

"If he wants to make a fight of it, I don't think it will go the limit. I'm not underestimating him but if there's a knockout I think I'll be the one who scores it. I hear he's a wonderful hitter. I can hit, too."

The 12-round bout between Holt and the New Brunswick fisherman from Baie Ste. Anne is scheduled for 9 p.m. EST at the Montreal Forum. The fight will be televised nationally in Canada and the United States with only Montreal, and Sherbrooke, Quebec, blacked out.

Yanks Lose 12-5 To Tigers' Lary

Detroit Ace Cinch to Win 6 From Bombers

By The Associated Press
Frank Lary, the pinball addict who makes lights flash and buzzers hum when he throws his knuckleball against New York, is practically a cinch to become the first pitcher in 14 years to beat the Yankees six times in one season.

The 27-year-old Detroit right-hander had no real trouble beating the Yankees 12-5 Tuesday. That was his fifth over the American League leaders this season.

No one has beaten the Yankees six times in one year since 1944, when a pair of Tiger aces, oddly enough, did it. Dizzy Trout was 6-0 and Hal Newhouser 6-2 against New York that year.

While third-place Detroit took a 9-4 edge over the Yankees for the year and cut their lead to 12 games, Boston retained second place by beating Kansas City 5-2 on Jackie Jensen's 27th home run. Baltimore tied the A's for fourth by defeating the White Sox in 12 innings. Washington beat Cleveland 5-4.

In the National League, Milwaukee retained a half-game lead by beating St. Louis 4-1. Second-place San Francisco defeated Philadelphia 1-0. Pittsburgh beat Los Angeles 6-2 in the only other game scheduled.

Lary had a string of 27 shutout innings over the Yankees until a two-run seventh, and finally gave way in a two-run eighth, when Mickey Mantle hit his 24th home run. Lary now is 9-8 for the season.

Jensen, the major league home run leader, hit his one-season high with a three-run shot in the first inning off loser Ray Herbert (3-5). Frank Sullivan won his eighth, but needed relief.

Gus Triandos hit a solo 17th homer and counted the clincher with a bases-loaded, two-out single in the 12th for the Orioles against reliever Turk Lown (0-2). Arnie Portocarrero (8-5) went all the way, giving up seven hits and blanking the White Sox on one hit for nine innings after a two-run first.

Roy Sievers' 21st home run broke up a tie for the Senators in the seventh off Gary Bell (3-3). Herb Score made his first start since April 30 for the Indians, and trailed 4-0 when he left in the second. Tex Clevenger (5-8) won it, blanking the Tribe on one hit in 6-1-3 innings of relief, retiring the last 14 in order.

After months of frustration, Duke Snider of the Dodgers swatted a tremendous wallop over the right center field fence, deepest part of the Coliseum's much magnified ball park.

The drive carried some 440 feet and came on a fast ball by right-hander Ron Kline of the Pittsburgh Pirates. It was struck in a losing cause however, the Pirates winning 6-2 as rookie Dick Stuart continued his long-distance clouting.

There have been homers punched over the right field fence near the foul line, puny blows of 320 or 330 feet, but Snider's was the first to clear the low fence in right center. It was only his second home run in the Coliseum this season, the other going over the left field screen. He's hit a dozen drives about 400-feet out, but all were caught.

Meeting Set to Discuss Racetracks; None Show

CINCINNATI (AP) — Members of the Legislature Service Commission came down here to talk about Ohio racetrack laws Tuesday but nobody showed up for their meeting.

The group, headed by State Sen. Ted Gray of Piqua, finally went to River Downs race track and talked with owner Leon Slavin who would like to get another 44 days of racing if state law can be changed. Under present law, a 44-day span is the limit.

Gray said, "We didn't expect much because I guess we goofed in not publicizing it (the meeting) more."

Another meeting, for the Cleveland area, is planned next Friday at North Randall Village Hall.

INDIANS SIGN BARTLOME
CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians have signed 20-year-old Larry Bartlome, a third baseman who played for Findlay College. A native of Vermilion, he will be assigned to the Tribe's Batavia, N.Y., farm club.

DOVER SIGN EX-AREA COACH
DOVER, Ohio (AP) — Jack Swinderman, 32, has accepted a $6,000-a-year contract to coach basketball at Dover High School, subject to his release at Denison University where he coached four years. He also coached three years at East Palestine High School before going to Denison.

Ottawa, Ont. — Art Sweiden, Pittsburgh, and Bert Whitehurst, Baltimore, drew, 10, Heavyweights.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS L. LIDE

The most interesting part of the summer time is just beginning. The reason is that "Marietta" sweet corn and field grown tomatoes are now on the market.

Marietta might get the credit for having early corn and tomatoes because it is the best known city in the fertile Ohio Valley truck farm sections.

I happen to know however that the biggest production comes from Letart and Long Bottom down around Pomeroy.

If you happen to be riding in the Marietta section and expect to find a bargain at one of the numerous so-called farm markets, keep going. You can buy garden produce cheaper at your local grocery store.

Since fish are not cooperating and it is hard to catch enough to have a fish-fry, you can substitute a corn roast as part of your outdoor recreation.

LOCALLY, fish have been very inactive because of the poor weather we have been having. John Hinchliffe of Lisbon did alright at Guilford when he landed the biggest fish of the week, a 4-inch wall-eye.

Orland Batman of Columbiana took home two walleyes, 16 1/2 and 20 1/2 inches in length along with two perch.

Small crappies, perch, bullheads, sunfish, and an occasional bass are being taken by the shore anglers.

At Zepernick Lake, bullheads are providing the most action. Night fishing is the best time to take them.

An amusing thing happened at Zepernick's at 10:40 p.m. Sunday.

TWO FISHERMEN appeared with coal miner caps and head lamps. One wore Bermuda shorts. The bugs began buzzing around their head lamps but they proceeded to pick up a good sized limb to sit on and to cast. They used night crawlers for bait.

The fellow in shorts immediately began slapping at mosquitoes that found his bare legs made to order as a mosquito landing strip.

My advice is that if you fish there at night, take along a good mosquito repellent or a long burning repellent candle.

THE NEW fishing dock recently installed at Zepernick's is unusual. A seating arrangement is included that will accommodate about 25 people.

Want to see something new in boating? Take a trip out to Berlin Lake and park along Route 224. On week ends, you can see about a quarter of a million dollars in boats and motors.

One water skier insisted on skiing right through a group of 27 swimmers. One trip by this joker was enough for the swimmers. On his return trip, they began skipping rocks across the top of the water. This took care of him. There is no law against "skipping rocks."

Jim Kealey, of Alberta, Canada, has built four boats in his cellar. Each time he got more enthusiastic and enlarged the size of the boats. He had to knock out a concrete wall of the cellar to get his fourth boat out.

Columbus Man Pleads Innocent to Charges

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Fred R. Cook, 37, of Columbus, has pleaded innocent to eight grand jury indictments, including four of rape, and asked for a three-judge court to hear his case.

No date was set for the trial when the plea was entered Tuesday.

Cook was charged with raping a 24-year-old woman Dec. 20, 1957, and again last June 11, an 18-year-old girl June 11 at the same home in the Delaware Dam area as the other assaults, and a 58-year-old woman south of here along U. S. 23 in April.

The other charges, connected with the rapes, are assault with a dangerous instrument with intent to maim, two counts of breaking and entering, and sodomy.

Cook was arrested in Columbus June 12 after eluding one of the biggest manhunts in many years in this area.

WELLSTON HIRES COACH

WELLSTON, Ohio (AP)—Robert L. Brennan, coach at Glouster High School for three years, has been named head football coach at Wellston High School. He succeeds Joe Malmisur, who resigned to accept a similar post at Lima Central.

DiSalle Climaxes 3-Day Visit to 6th District

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle moved into 10th Congressional District today after climaxed a two-day tour of nine counties in the Sixth District here Tuesday night.

The Democratic candidate for governor spoke Tuesday at Waverly, Hillsboro, Washington Court House, Circleville and Chillicothe.

DiSalle said the state could not eliminate dangerous stretches, intersections and curves on highways by using accident reports.

He again criticized Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill for his Governor's Day picnics. One was held here Thursday.

"No wonder the people are asking who is giving the money for these affairs and why," DiSalle said.

Among his stops today will be Athens, where O'Neill will hold another of his picnics Thursday.

Duddy Holt guided Idaho State College to six Rocky Mountain Conference championships in his first seven years as track coach.
